

Careers

KIGG Ltd. is an internationally focused High-Tech SME carrying out R&D and manufacturing of electrical and electronic systems, with established operations in Europe, the Middle East and Asia.

At KIGG Ltd., we recruit a wide range of candidates from school leavers to graduates. To invigorate our growth we are always looking to improve our team with talented individuals with ambition and creativity.

When you join us, you can expect a varied and challenging work environment. We are keen for our employees to achieve their potential, we therefore encourage training, which allows our employees to acquire new skills and enhance their knowledge.

Graduates

Within our industry, there is constant change and development which creates new challenges and opportunities all the time. If you're fascinated by developing innovative solutions a career at KIGG could be ideal. We typically recruit potential graduates in the Engineering and Technology Fields.

We welcome speculative CV's and Resumes but please include a covering letter that explains clearly what career you would like to pursue. If you're applying for a specific position, include the title of the position in your email subject and reference it in your covering letter. Please include any additional documents that are suitable to support your application.

All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, ethnicity, religious beliefs, marital status, gender, sexual orientation, disability or age.
